About Cassidy

Cassidy Artz is a nationally experienced SAT/ACT tutor and college admissions coach who has helped hundreds of students achieve their academic goals since 2010. With a background in psychology from Northwestern University and a Master of Public Health from Emory, Cassidy combines educational expertise with deep empathy and a personalized approach to learning.

She specializes in working with students of all learning styles—including those with ADHD, test anxiety, and learning differences—and is known for her calm presence, strategic insights, and outstanding results.

Test Prep Expertise

Cassidy offers one-on-one tutoring for:

- SAT: Math, Reading, and Writing
- ACT: English, Math, Reading, Science, and Essay
- Test Strategy: Time management, pacing, guessing tactics, anxiety reduction

Her tutoring is customized to each student's skill gaps, confidence level, and learning preferences. On average, Clients see score increases of 200–300+ points on the SAT and 4–6+ points on the ACT.

College Admission Success

Cassidy also provides college application support, including:

- School list curation
- Essay coaching and editing
- Timeline planning and accountability
- Application guidance from start to finish

Her students have gained admission to top schools such as:

- Princeton
- Georgetown
- Georgia Tech
- University of Michigan
- Emory
- Northwestern

Teaching Philosophy

Cassidy believes that confidence is just as important as content.

With her background in psychology and behavioral health, she understands how mindset, motivation, and executive function affect performance. She meets each student where they are—whether that means calming nerves before test day or turning around a history of academic frustration.

Her style is:

- Calm, encouraging, and student-centered
- Flexible for remote or in-person sessions
- Grounded in evidence-based learning strategies
